German Cruiser Emden Destroyed and Koningsberg Bottled Up

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Admiralty officially announced to-day that the German cruiser Emden was destroyed in the Bay of Bengal by the Australian cruiser Sydney in a running fight which ended by the Emden being beached while she was burning furiously. The German cruiser Koningsberg was chased into port on Rufiji Island, off coast of German East Africa, and is now bottled up by the British warship Chatham.

Official News Stirs Military Men

Calgary, November 4.—Headquarters of Military District 13 are all in a bustle today over the official announcement from Ottawa on the make-up of the second contingent. While there is some regret that the infantry battalion is not going with the next force, this is largely mitigated by the good news that a regiment of cavalry is wanted. In addition to the battery and section of army medicals, Colonel Cruikshank announces that a troop of field engineers will be required from Alberta. It is also announced that Colonel George McDonald, of the 15th Light Horse, Calgary, has been recommended to command the Alberta cavalry regiment.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Curling Club will be held on Tuesday evening next, November 17th, in the Parish Hall. The supper starts at 6.30 p.m. sharp. All curlers and intending curlers are cordially invited.

Incidents of the War

Capt. E. K. Bradbury, R.H.A., was killed while in the act of firing a gun. Previous to his death he had "nocked out" a German gun with a well placed shot, when a shell took away one of his legs. He pluckily fired another two shots, when his other leg was blown off at the knee. He begged for morphine so that the men should not hear him screaming and get disheartened.

Leut. R. Pottinger, of the engineers, returned to fight the fun of a charge, laid to blow up a bridge, which had failed to go off. He emptied his revolver at the fun, knowing it meant death to himself. It however did not go off, and the Germans rushed the position.

Private Wood, of the Coldstream Guards, got his leg smashed by a bullet, and while lying on the ground among the dead for three hours, saw and heard German soldiers passing and shouting Hoch, Kaiser. All he said he could do was to say to himself, Hurrah for the King.

Bombardier Stoddard, 27th Battery R.F.A., found a baby, about twelve months old, crying in a cradle in a burning village. It was raining heavily, and he carried the child for five miles under his coat, and then, having to go into action, put it at the side of a haystack. After the engagement he returned and found the stack burned and the child missing.

A member of the Manchester Regiment, lying terribly wounded near the German lines, and understanding their language, heard a conversation in which it was shown that they were going to attack the position held by his regiment that night. In spite of his wounds, he managed to get back to his own lines, five miles away, and give the information. The attack was made, but the Britishers were ready and beat the Germans off. The man unfortunately died from loss of blood in a few hours.

Trumpeter J. R. Palmer, writing for his mother at Bristol, says: "Please send me a good warm shirt. I'm afraid to take this off in case it drops to pieces."

Patriotic Fund Committee Meet

A meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund committee was held in the Board of Trade rooms on Wednesday night. In the absence of the President, E. McEwen, M.P.P., through sickness, R. B. Welliver was asked to take the chair. Two more cases of dependants were discussed and dealt with. Mr. Gheux was present, and asked for a promise to be appointed for handling the funds coming in for the relief of the Belgians. It was felt that the committee had no power to appoint a Belgian Relief committee, it being a matter for the public, but they suggested the names of H. Wallace and F. C. Whitehouse to act with Mr. Gheux. Owing to the President's absence, a part of the business had to be postponed.

The application form sent out by the central committee at Calgary was in for a lot of discussion. It was felt that many of the questions to be answered were unnecessary, and sounded too much like charity, with an added difficulty for giving too much information, and likely to give offence. A resolution on the matter was drafted and sent to the Secretary at Calgary.

NEW MINISTER ELECTED.

FUGITIVE TROOPS SPREADING PANIC TO THEIR RESERVES

Austro-German Cavalry Are Depicted as Being in Pitiable Condition.

ROME, Nov. 8.—Official communications received in Rome from Russian army headquarters state that the Austro-German reverses in Galicia and Russian Poland are being augmented daily by the fugitive troops communicating panic to their reserves.

The Austro-German cavalry forces are depicted as being in an especially pitiable condition. A part of this force, it is said, was to no on in the outpouring of the money, the remainder being routed and pursued in utmost confusion. Austria and Germany had centered about 20,000 of their best cavalry, half of which force, the Russians maintain, is now lost.

Once the Austrian and German cavalry was disposed of the Russians directed their efforts to the cutting off of the five armies into which the Austro-German forces were divided, from their western base of operations. The Russians forced them to the southward, at the same time inflicting heavy losses.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A Petrograd despatch says: "The rapidly the movements on the battlefields in Poland have been anticipated since the days of Napoleon. Deducting the time spent in actual fighting, the relentless Russian pursuit has been pressed for over a week at a rate averaging fourteen miles per day over the Polish roads, which are very heavy after the rainy season. History will testify that the Grand Duke will prove himself one of the greatest strategists that the world has known."

Supreme Court

Case Against Michener, Carscallen & Co., Withdrawn

They Were Honorably Exonerated from Blame, and Allowed Their Costs Amounting to $400.

The Supreme Court opened yesterday afternoon before Justice Hyndman. Among the cases on the docket there was not a single one ready to be heard, and then it was decided to adjourn until the 11th inst.

Mr. Biggar rose to address the court, Messrs. J. B. Bennett, T. M. Tweedie, and Green & Payne being present in the interests of the defence, while Mr. Biggar and Mr. Gheux appeared for the plaintiffs. Mr. Gheux, of Calgary, appeared for the Guarantees Co.

Mr. Biggar: Your Lordship has no doubt read the pleadings in this action and knows the nature of it.

The Court: I read the pleadings today.

Mr. Biggar: I find, my Lord, that there was a proposal made by the defendants, Michener, Carscallen & Co., and the members of that firm, to have a litigation commenced. The property had unexpectedly risen in value and they, even before there was a suggestion of any litigation, had made a proposal to make substantial provision for the children interested in this action.

We find now that the property has risen in value to such an extent, probably not nearly as great a price as that for which it was a fact sold by them.

Then with regard to the matters actually involved in the action, I am satisfied that Mr. Michener's valuation of the property at the time was made in his absence and with out his knowledge, and he did not, in fact, learn that it had been made until some time after. It is, however, admitted that there is a technical liability on the part of the defendants, other than the Trusts & Guarantees Company, to account to the estate and consequently in view of the present value of the property and in view of all the circumstances, an agreement has been made between the parties to have judgment given, if necessary, I do not think any judgment need go in fact beyond the question of costs—on certain minutes which have been agreed upon by the parties. These minutes involve, my Lord, an assignment of Pays Heavy Fine. Prince Albert is Sovereign of the Principality of Monaco, which is Monte Carlo, the great gambling centre. Recently the community in Northern France in which the Prince's chateau is situated, was asked by the German invaders to pay a war levy of one hundred thousand dollars. The community was able to pay but one-fourth, and Prince Albert has agreed to pay the other three-fourths.

Belgian Relief

Another shipment of clothing for the victims of the war in Belgium will be made from Red Deer on November 21st to the Belgian Consulate in Calgary. Persons intending to give clothing are kindly requested to send same to the Red Deer Post Office, or to the vacant office in Michener's block, before November 20th.

Contributions in money will also be gladly accepted by any member of the Red Deer District Committee, namely, E. Gheux, Harry Wallace or F. C. Whitehouse. Funds will ultimately be forwarded to the Belgian Central Committee in Montreal and be used there for the purchase of Canadian food supplies. All American Consuls in Belgium have agreed to look after the distribution of goods over the Belgian territory.

Convention in the Nazarene Church

A convention under the auspices of the Nazarene and Saskatchewan Business Association (Inter-denominational) will be held in the Nazarene Church, 497 Ross St. East, Nov. 13, 14 and 15. Workers and friends from provincial points are expected to be in attendance. These conventions are held for the purpose of deepening the spiritual life of believers, creating a revival atmosphere, and contributing generally to the upbuilding of God's Kingdom among men. Services every evening next week, at 8 p.m. All are cordially invited. Hearty congregational singing. Last and best revival music.

Patriotic Meeting at Innisfail

A patriotic meeting was held at Innisfail on Friday night of last week. A very enthusiastic crowd was present and were addressed by F. W. Archer, M.P.P., S. B. Hillocks, M.P.P., C. C. Cote, M.P.P., and H. H. Gatz, of Red Deer. The speeches were eloquent and to the point, and were well received by the audience.

At the close of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speakers, and a strong commitment.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE 15,500 AUSTRILIANS IN VICINITY OF CRACOW.

Petrograd, November 7.—The left wing of the Russian army in engagements taking place between Oct. 23 and Nov. 4, on the front in the vicinity of Cracow, took prisoners 274 officers and 15,500 men of the Austrian enemy. This information was given out in Petrograd today. In addition to these prisoners the Russian forces captured three howitzers, forty pieces of artillery, 39 rapid fire guns and a large quantity of material for the manufacture of cartridges.

ALARMED BY RUSSIAN SUCCESSSES, EMPEROR HOLDS WAR COUNCIL.

London, November 9.—A despatch from Rome says that Emperor William, much affected by the Russian victories, has held a council of war, which was attended by General Von Hindenburg, the Duke of Wurtemberg, and the Austrian chief of staff, Field Marshal Baron Conrad Von Hotzendorf, to decide on a further plan of campaign.

Poem on the 27th of November, 1914

Twenty-seventh of November
A day that should remember.
We can interest you in
If you care to make a call:
Ten cent tea and big bazaar—
Things for sale from near and far.

The ladies of the Methodist Aid Society are having a bazaar. All with prices very low. Right for these hard times you know. If you do not care to buy, Come and give the tea a try.

Afternoon and evening, too. There's a welcome warm for you. Methodist parlor is the place; We hope your presence will it grace.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Meeres intend giving a dance at the home, Clearview, aid of the Patriotic Fund, on November 27th.

We have heard some rumors about a bear story—something about somebody finding bear tracks and then becoming afraid they might find the bear. Perhaps we can tell you more about it next week.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct., 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months."

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "Incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Many Turkish Soldiers Ready for Battle

London, November 2, (2.30 a.m.)—A despatch from Rome to the Express says a report has reached there that 400,000 Turks are massed on the Caucasian border, and that 300,000 are waiting at Beyrut, Jaffa and other ports for transshipment to the Sinai peninsula. The ports, it is said, are well guarded by the British and the French fleets. "I am officially informed," says the Express correspondent, "that a circular announcing the mobilization of the Greek army has been received by the foreign consuls."

Alberta Branches of Canadian Patriotic Fund Are Very Busy

At the very commencement of the war, and as soon as Canadian troops began to mobilize for active service, the question arose as to how their wives and families were to be maintained during their absence. In not a few instances generous-minded employers offered to continue to pay wages as formerly in whole or in part to the families of men who had been in their service. Many cases were unprovided for, however, came under local notice and funds were started in several of our large cities. It was not long before the Canadian Patriotic Fund was organized, and it was evident that while certain districts could provide well for the families within their boundaries, there would be other cases, equally deserving, in danger of being overlooked. Hence arose the demand for a central or national fund that would consolidate and support local efforts and be available where this proved insufficient.

In answer to numerous requests, His Royal Highness, the Governor General of Canada, took the initiative in this matter and the Canadian Patriotic Fund was organized with His Majesty as patron. It is a body corporate by virtue of an act of parliament and is empowered: "To collect, administer and distribute funds for the assistance in case of need of the wives, children and dependant relatives of soldiers and men, residents of Canada, who, during the present war, may be on active service with the naval and military forces of the British Empire and Great Britain."

This central body has a distinguished list of vice-presidents and an executive made up of leading men from every province of the Dominion.

BRANCH ORGANIZATION. The Canadian Patriotic Fund is given power by its charter "to establish branches or local organizations throughout Canada, and to co-operate with any association or organization established anywhere in Canada, for purposes similar to those of the corporation. The first step in the direction of united action was taken when the Patriotic Fund Association of 1900, which had administered relief since and during the Boer War, decided to dissolve and to take over its unexpended balance, amounting to about $77,000, to the new central body. Local organizations, that had already been working for some time in Toronto and Ottawa, asked to be admitted as branches of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and were duly accepted.

As a measure of autonomy is granted to these local bodies, yet, for the sake of uniformity, certain conditions have been laid down and cordially accepted.

No existing society, however zealous, that has a limited membership only, should undertake, unaided, so large an enterprise. If continuing to continue to go to the front, there will be in nearly every community a large number of families justly entitled to receive assistance from the fund, and the work involved in collecting and administering the fund will be of such importance and magnitude as to require the active cooperation of a large and representative body of men and women.

2nd. A central organization is further necessary to make sure that the scale of distribution, making due allowance for the needs of each of living, is approximately the same with each branch. Obviously, it would be unfair for one locality to support its families too generously while another was exercising the greatest economy, and yet both were falling back upon the common fund.

3. The fund recognizes as being on the same basis not only Canadian volunteers and regulars, but also the British army and navy reservists, and French, Belgian, Serbian, Russian and Japanese reservists who, leaving dependants in Canada, have gone to join the colors. These soldiers are all granted equal status for the common cause, and their families in Canada are entitled to equal consideration.

4. Aid can be granted only while the soldier is on active service. It may be commenced however from the time that he gives up his employment or leaves his home, and be continued as long as he is with his regiment.

5. The central body will be most happy to facilitate the endeavors of patriotic Canadians throughout the Dominion to carry forward an organized effort to require the active cooperation of our brave soldiers who are fighting the battles of the Empire with the army and navy of Great Britain and her Allies, shall not suffer want during their absence at the front. This is the least that those of us who do not go into danger can do for those who are willing to suffer, and, if need be, lay down their lives for our common defence.

Local organizations should get in communication as soon as possible with the local members of the Provincial Legislature, as he is the individual responsible for the organization of the fund in his constituency.

ment, allowing reasonable time for his return journey to his home in Canada.

4. The names of families receiving help should be transmitted to the central executive for verification and record.

A REASONABLE AMOUNT OF RELIEF. Not many families will be left in total destitution.

According to a circular issued by the Central Committee in Ottawa, the wife of a married soldier (Canadian) will have sent to her each month by the paymaster-general of the Militia Department, Ottawa, a cheque for $20.00 as a separation allowance.

The wife of a British reservist will receive each month $20 (75) per cent for herself and 30 (30) per cent for each child, with a maximum of 18 (90) per cent, that a wife and three children would receive from the Imperial Government about 57c a day, making $17.10 per month.

Again, there are often wages earned by the soldier, which he can contribute in part towards his support. Further many employers are continuing to pay to the family of a soldier who is on active service, or part of the amount which such soldier as an employee had been accustomed to earn. All these sources and accounts may be entered by the local Relief Committee and carefully considered when calculating what amount a family may justly demand from the fund.

At a meeting of the executives of the North and South Alberta branches it was decided that the following amounts may be justly paid to dependants during the bread-winner's absence:

Per month
Wife on her own account.....$3.00
Allowance for one child between 10 and 15 years of age 9.00
Allowance for one child between 5 and 10 years of age 6.00
Allowance for one child under 5 years of age.....5.00
With a maximum allowance of $20.00 for the largest family.

THE CENTRAL ORGANIZATION. As custodian of the common fund, the Central Organization will be expected to exercise general oversight over the local branches, and to keep a record of all names, so far as obtainable, of those going to the front, will be kept at Ottawa, and organizations having amounts may be justly paid to dependants during the bread-winner's absence.

A moment's reflection will show two obvious reasons why a central fund is desirable: 1. The ability of communities to raise funds and the claims made upon local organizations will be far from uniform. Some branches will be able to collect more than others, and some will have demands beyond their power to satisfy. In this trying time the strong should be willing to help the weak, and the strong should be willing to help the weak. Some families will be found in districts where no relief organizations can be found. Hence the need for a central fund, which can stand behind all and see that in no place throughout our wide Dominion innocent suffering is permitted to continue.

2nd. A central organization is further necessary to make sure that the scale of distribution, making due allowance for the needs of each of living, is approximately the same with each branch. Obviously, it would be unfair for one locality to support its families too generously while another was exercising the greatest economy, and yet both were falling back upon the common fund.

3. The fund recognizes as being on the same basis not only Canadian volunteers and regulars, but also the British army and navy reservists, and French, Belgian, Serbian, Russian and Japanese reservists who, leaving dependants in Canada, have gone to join the colors. These soldiers are all granted equal status for the common cause, and their families in Canada are entitled to equal consideration.

4. Aid can be granted only while the soldier is on active service. It may be commenced however from the time that he gives up his employment or leaves his home, and be continued as long as he is with his regiment.

5. The central body will be most happy to facilitate the endeavors of patriotic Canadians throughout the Dominion to carry forward an organized effort to require the active cooperation of our brave soldiers who are fighting the battles of the Empire with the army and navy of Great Britain and her Allies, shall not suffer want during their absence at the front. ## Canadians Now Look at the Serious Side of Work at the Front

DEVELOPMENT OF THE IMPERIAL IDEA AMONG THE CANADIAN-BORN IN FIRST CONTINGENT GROWS RAPIDLY.

Montreal, November 3.—In a letter dated October 20, a correspondent at Salisbury camp of the Canadian expeditionary force writing to the Montreal Star, comments on the development of the imperial idea among Canadian-born members of the contingent. It says:

More especially this applies to the Canadian-born, the men who know of England through books. I have asked scores at Valcartier and on the ship, why they enlisted. "Why, I kicked in to see the fun," was the usual answer. You could not draw from any one of them that he had come to fight for the empire. They don't say those things now. There is the typical response on anything that approaches the sentimental.

IMPERIAL IDEA CRISTALIZED. "People wondered why the contingent did not go straight to France. They talked of the."

ALLIES AIM TO DELIVER CRUSHING DEFEAT BEFORE GERMANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

Kaiser's Men Are Now Outnumbered in France and Belgium, But Generals Joffre and French Too Careful of Lives to Rush the Defensive Positions—France Has Still Million and Half Reserves.

Paris, November 3.—Competent persons attached to the French war office estimate that the Germans have in Belgium, in France and along the German frontier to Switzerland, about 1,700,000 men. The French and English have undoubtedly by a numerical superiority. Possibly the allies, including Belgium, have 2,225,000 men on or near the fighting lines.

The question then is, why do not the allies turn the Germans out of France and Belgium? One reason is that the power of defense is greater than modern weapons and entrenchments than the power of offense.

CAREFUL OF LIVES. General Joffre and Field Marshal French are careful of the lives of their men. They seek to accomplish large results by letting the Germans attack under unfavorable circumstances, when they will do so, and the allied commanders appear to consider that the Germans may be engaged to better advantage in France and in Belgium than in Germany. The effort is to distribute allied troops upon this part of the border of the west front so that important fractions of the invaders may be destroyed or captured. For the allies to simply drive the Germans before them—if that should be possible—would be to drive them back upon their bases with armies intact. The problem of beating the Germans on this frontier would be more difficult every mile they were driven back.

BE LONG WAR. A deep conviction seems to exist at the headquarters in the field and at the ministry of war that the war is to be long one; that the victory is to be won solely by attrition, and that this process of attrition can be applied as well in northern France and in Belgium as on the Rhine. Hunan material is poured out lavishly for defense and also for attack where the point has an important relation to the larger plan, but lives are not the less guarded where there is no capital military object in pouring them out. The look ahead is for a long war—a year or more—and the men must be kept alive to carry it on.

HAS PLENTY OF MEN. France still has probably a million and a half of men capable of bearing arms, most of them under arms, who have never been to the front. There are the very young men, and the reserves of the older classes who are being trained for taking their places on the battle line and reserve material for replacing the battle wastage. France, therefore, can lose one and a half million men and yet maintain her gigantic armies on the fighting lines at the same strength they have now. The same thing may be true of Germany—it probably is—and therefore military observers begin, as rarely the deployment and opening engagements of a war which may not reach its greatest violence until spring.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RECRUITING OF SECOND CONTINGENT.

1. Age, 18 to 45.
2. Chest measurement, 33 1/2 inches.
3. Height, 5 feet, 3 inches.
4. The following must obtain the consent of their parents before being enlisted: (a) Men under 21 years; (b) The only son of parents who are dependent on him.
5. Married men must obtain the consent of their wives.
6. Unmarried men will be given the preference, and after this, if sufficient numbers cannot be obtained, married men without families.
7. Infirmary men should not be enlisted.
8. Pay authorized for militia on active service, $10 a day. Substantial allowance until reaching discharge, however, frequently, to take effect from time of passing medical examination and signing enlistment roll.

Heavy Penalties for Trading With Enemies Of Britain Are Fixed

Ottawa, November 2.—An order-in-council just issued fixes penalties for violation of the order against trade with the enemy. On summary conviction anyone guilty of trading with an enemy is liable to a term of imprisonment not exceeding 12 months, with or without hard labor, or a fine of $5,000, or both. On conviction on indictment the penalty is five years, or a fine of $5,000, or both, and the confiscation of goods or money in respect to the offence is optional with the court. When a company is the offender, every director, manager, secretary or other officer who is a party to the offence is guilty of the offence.

Nelson Editor to Go With Kootenay's 200

Fernie, October 30.—Col. McKay received telegraphic instructions yesterday to ensure that 200 men from this district to be sent to Victoria, Sunday. Before night he had the full number enlisted and had so reported to Col. Ogilvie at Victoria.

Fernie sends 30, Cranbrook 30, Cochrane 10, Mica 10, Creston 10, Elk 5, and Nelson 90 men. A movement has already been started to give the Fernie boys a good send-off Sunday morning.

W. Garland Foster, editor of the Daily News, Nelson, is one of the 90 men going from that city. More than 500 men are on the line, and the waiting list ready for the next call and names are continually being added.

trouble and delay of disembarkation, and of then, a short time later, sending the troops on. But the sky in England is always justified. The imperial idea has been crystallized. The Canadian-born is more of the empire than was the Englishman. He brings a wider and better understanding of the Englishman into his daily relationship. He is beginning to understand the situation that sent him to the recruiting office.

TAUGHT CANADIANS. It was the essential antiquity of the landscape, the new beauty of the fields, the historic and imperial significance of all that he has seen that taught the Canadians.

These things are more than the strains of "Tipperary." They go deeper than the roll of drums. A corporal of the Fifth Royal Scots stood looking at the magnificent facade of the cathedral here today. He clenched his fists and said: "God sent the British to destroy one like this at Rheims."

Threatening The States

Germans are disappointed and angry because all the great newspapers in the United States favor Britain and her allies on the ground that their cause is just. The Cologne Gazette is decidedly minatory in its tone. It says: "The disgust in which we have stepped machines to our collar, but we will put up with the vile machinations of the double headed brood of the American press vipers for a little longer; then we will bring the German heel down upon their venomous heads!"

The Wall Street Journal submits "without offence" that the American toe is a proper reply to the German heel. It then quotes the Vossische Zeitung to prove that the praise of certain German papers is more often given than the blame. The quotation reads: "When the war is over, Germany will do little trade with England and France, so that the United States will then together dominate the world's markets. German business men will bear this in mind and direct all their trade toward finding means of working with her." The people of the United States know that if Germany emerged triumphant from the present conflict they would have to arm against her pretensions to world domination.

Have Germans Built Bases for Big Howitzers on Isle of Orleans? Quebec?

Ottawa—The alleged presence of concrete platforms deeply embedded in the ground at Pointe St. Charles, Isle of Orleans dominating the entrance to the St. Lawrence, has been brought to the attention of the military department. It is said that a German company has been manufacturing concrete blocks at St. Jean, on the island, and the report is that the effect that gun platforms have been constructed for howitzer siege batteries. It is further stated that the same company plant a concrete platform at the head of the lakes at Port Arthur in the vicinity of the grain elevators. The department is not inclined to treat the matter seriously, though it will be investigated. It is pointed out that in order to get guns on the island the Germans would first have to place the Lewis forts, in which case Quebec would be at their mercy without the necessity of a siege. It is not contemplated that such an event will occur.

Armored Train Routs 10,000 Germans—British Then Pursue

London, November 2.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail in Northern France relates how a force of 10,000 Germans was completely routed and scattered by an armored train. He says: "The Germans had almost surrounded a British regiment which fought on doggedly though vastly outnumbered. Suddenly an armored train shot up on the railway line, which the British were holding. Right and left the train poured broadsides of machine gun fire, moving down the Germans at every yard until the line on each side was covered with heaps of German dead. The rest fled precipitately and the British pursued."

Germany's Hatred of England and an American Reply

A CHANT OF HATE
AGAINST ENGLAND.

(By Ernest Lissauer in English.)
Rendered into English verse by Barbara Henderson for The New York Times.

French and Russian, they matter not,
A blow for a blow, and a shot for a
shot,
We love them not, we hate them not,
We hold the Weichsel and Vosgesgate.

We have but one and only hate,
We love as one, we hate as one,
We have one foe and one alone.

He is known to you all, he is known to you all,
He crouches behind the dark gray
flood,
Full of envy, of rage, of craft, of gall,

Cut off by waves that are thicker than blood:
Come let us stand at the Judgment
place,

An oath to swear to, face to face.
An oath of bronze, no wind can shake,
An oath for our sons and their sons
to take.

Come hear the word, repeat the word,
Throughout the Fatherland make it heard.

We will never forego our hate,
We have all but a single hate,
We love as one, we hate as one,
We have one foe and one alone—
England!

In the captains' mess, in the banqueting hall,
Sat feasting the officers, one and all,
Like a sabre-blow, like the swing of a sail,

One seized the glass held high to hail;
Sharp-snapped like the stroke of a
ruder's play,
Spoke three words only: "To the Day!"

Whose glass this fate?
They had all but a single hate,
Who was thus known?
They had one foe, and one alone—
England!

Take you the folk of the earth in pay,
With bars of gold your ramparts
lay,
Beside the ocean with bow on bow,
Ye reckon well, but not well enough
now,

French and Russian, they matter not,
A blow for a blow, a shot for a
shot,
We will fight the battle with bronze
and steel,

And the time that is coming Peace
will seal.
You will we hate with a lasting hate,
We will never forego our hate,
Hate by water and hate by land,
Hate of the head and hate of the hand,

Hate of the hammer and hate of the saw,
Hate of seventy millions, choking
down,
We love as one, we hate as one,
They had one foe, and one alone—
England!

Take you the folk of the earth in pay,
With bars of gold your ramparts
lay,
Beside the ocean with bow on bow,
Ye reckon well, but not well enough

Hate of seventy millions, choking
down,
We love as one, we hate as one,
They had one foe, and one alone—
England!

ANSWERING THE
"HASSGESANG."

(The New York Times).
In a recent issue of The Times
there appeared under the title, "A Chant of Hatred Against England," the translation of a poem by Ernest Lissauer, originally printed in Jugend, a Berlin publication. The following lines in reply reached The Times office immediately, evincing a speed of composition truly remarkable, considering the technical excellence of the composition:

French and Russian, they matter not,
For England only your wrath is hot,
But little Belgium is so small
You never mentioned her at all—
Or did her graveyards, yawning deep,
Whisper that silence was discreet?

For Belgium is wastel Ay, Belgium is wastel.
She waters in the blood of her sons,
And the ruins that fill the little
place

Speak of the vengeance of the Huns.
"Come, let us stand at the Judgment place."

German and Belgian, face to face.
What can you say? What can you do?

What will history say of you?
For even the Hun can only say
That little Belgium lay in his way.
Is there no reckoning you must pay?
What of the Justice of that "Day?"
Belgium, one voice—Belgium, one cry
Shrieking her wrongs inflicted by—
Germany!

In her ruined homesteads, her trampled fields,
You have taken your toll, you have set your seal;
Her women are homeless, her men
are dead,
Her children pitifully cry for bread;
Perchance they will drink with you—
"To the Day!"

Let each man construe it as he may,
What shall it be?
They, too, have but one enemy;
Whose work is this?
Belgium has but one word to hiss—
Germany!

In Germany!" Beatrice M. Barry.

Local Market Will Continue Through Winter

The local market on Thursday last was away ahead of any market held during the last few weeks, both from a producers' and consumers' standpoint.

New cattle were present, including Messrs. J. W. Johnston, of Markerville, and Anderson and Blain, who live about fourteen miles south-west of Red Deer. At the conclusion of the market, a meeting was held to consider the advisability of carrying on the market for the winter months. A fair number, including the market committee, were present, when H. H. Gaetz opened the proceedings.

He believed himself that the market had proved reasonably satisfactory. There had, of course, been some complaints from both sides, but on the whole it had been a success, and it remained for the farmers to say if they could attend during the winter months or not. He would like to hear every one present give their views, and state grievances quite openly and freely, so that they could be dealt with in the proper manner.

Mr. Bjorkeland said as far as he was concerned he was satisfied. He had heard complaints about the prices being high, but he did not think they were high. It was surely worth something to the consumer to get his goods strictly fresh and guaranteed. There was a vast difference between eggs and butter a few days old, and that which had been kept a couple of weeks. There was no doubt that it taken into account also, and he considered there was more to be gained by shipping to Calgary but he preferred to support the home market, and should attend regularly if it was continued.

Mr. McKinnon thought the market should be continued, and that the present premises were convenient enough. They were clean, and he did not think they were too cold. Mr. H. Stone thought the market should establish a hay market. His experience had been that it was a difficult matter to locate a load of hay that was reliable just when it was needed. He thought it would be better to have half a dozen loads of hay to choose from.

Mr. McKinnon thought it would be a hard job to get the farmer to bring in loads of hay without knowing where he was going to place it. Mr. Whitehouse said the market had been started in the first place with the main object of helping the farmer. There was, however, two sides to the question, and without doubt the market should benefit both sides. Eggs were a bone of contention. As he understood the market question, it was necessary that the

DISTRICT NEWS

ALHAMBRA AND

CONDOR NEWS.
 A large party of friends paid a surprise visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas on Friday night last, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Songs and dances were the order of the evening. Mr. Chas. D. Smith and Messrs. W. C. Cruickshank very ably supplied the dance music. The M. C. for the evening was Mr. N. Eastman. The song "Here the River Shannon Flows" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Smith, also humorous songs "Mary Ann" and "I'm Shy, Mary Ellen" were sung by Mr. B. Beaman, and a number of other good songs by Mr. Norman Eastman. This is the first surprise party of this season, and it was a highly successful one.

Threshing operations are finished in this part. The Kirk and Peel outfit report good crops and fine samples of grain.

The truancy officer should pay a visit to the Horseguard School District. A visit from him would be beneficial to some of the children who are neglecting their education through no fault of their own.

During these troublesome times the people are getting anxious about a strange apparatus that is seen traversing the roads in this district. It is a two-wheeled machine with a decidedly uncanny body, painted yellow, drawn by Don Patch in disguise. Some people call it a devil, others a racing sulky; perhaps it is some kind of an internal machine for disabling mischief-makers. Will any good Christian who has seen it give it a name.

We are sorry to hear that our friend, Mr. Tom Perry, has lost a valuable cow. This is bad luck for him but he takes it like all Britishers.

Fall plowing is about finished in this part of the west. Tommy Peel has over a hundred acres ready for spring seeding.

SHAMROCK.

HILL END.

Threshing is now just about completed. Mr. Geo. Hill has returned home after looking for a homestead. He went fifty miles north of Edmonton, and then 100 miles west, but found nothing that suited.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Wednesday, October 28th, a very quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Macdonald, the contracting parties being Miss Louise Randall and Mr. Tom Kirtton, of Edwell, our genial agent here. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to their home. The boys of the neighborhood, and some threshers having previously heard of the event, preceded Tom and out-ated charity at Calgary last week. $11.25 was collected last week for the over-seas tobacco fund by H. M. Bell and forwarded by P. J. Macoun free of commission.

An enjoyable "Soiree" was given by Dr. and Mrs. Oliver at the home of E. Kerr, October 28th.

E. F. Kerr, of Winborne, threshed out 8,000 bushels of grain. He believes the wild ducks got about 600 bushels of his barley.

ECKVILLE.

The heavy fall of snow detracted somewhat from the success of the Masquerade ball held in Eckville last week. There was, however, a sufficient number to make the evening very enjoyable. The costumes were many and varied, and the judges, Mr. Scott, Mrs. Kidd and Mrs. Mitzen, and a difficult task before them. Everybody endorsed their final selection, and congratulated Miss Schumann and Mr. Fyke as being deservedly the winners. Miss Schumann's costume as an Indian Maid was perfect.

The coons are coming! All who heard Messrs. Paris & Watts, of chocolate fun makers, who were up from Calgary early in the year, are pleased to hear that the Eckville Improvements Co. have secured them again. This time there will be a full troupe, all negroes, six in number, and a very fine show will be presented. After the show, the troupe will play for a dance all night. If you do not take this in your mind, miss the time of your life. Don't forget the date, Tuesday, November 24th. Come early.

Miss Woods is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Evans.

A very enjoyable programme was given of instrumental solos and duets, vocal solos, etc., by Miss K. Meers, Mr. Jack Gaetz, Miss M. Meek, Mrs. A. E. Trueman, and Mrs. Saunders. Rev. Mr. Saunders and Rev. Meek gave short addresses, and Mrs. Saunders gave a very interesting paper on social life in rural districts. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.

The gentlemen moved a vote of thanks for the hospitality shown them by the ladies, also a vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. Trueman for the use of their home.

Next month's meeting will be held at Mrs. Ross'. It will be election of officers, and a full attendance of members is requested. Any ladies desiring to join the Institute will be cordially received.

LACOMBE.

The slick confidence man who made the big haul from the Lacombe bank, and was successful in getting $30,000 from Winnipeg banks. He tried to get his stealings changed in the First National bank, and the teller, becoming suspicious, called in the police and he was laid by the heels.

The patriotic chicken supper at Arkivale was a great success. The concert, after a very great enjoyment, special mention being made of Miss Moore's training of the school children.

Alberta Industrial Academy enrolled 67 students at their opening. October 14th, this being 13 in excess of last year.

DIDSBURY.

The Pioneer corrects statement made last week in regard to threshing of oats by Mr. Sick. The paragraph should have read 60 bushels to the acre, not 110. This is something to be proud of, just the same.

Didsbury, was in darkness Monday night, November 2nd, owing to overloading of a box in the large generator.

Residents of Didsbury contributed 100 pairs of grey woolen socks for the Red Cross last week. They were sent on to Calgary.

Didsbury High School, for debating purposes, are placed in No. 3 district, along with Deer, Olds and Olds Agricultural College.

PONOKA.

The Council of Ponoka will probably take action over some of the things in that town on Halloween. In addition to harmless pranks and fun, property was destroyed, and the local constable got two ribs fractured.

Ponoka Patriotic Pierrrots give a concert in aid of the patriotic fund on Friday, November 20th.

The School of Agriculture enrolled 75 boys and 18 girls the first three days this year, and have in addition 25 signed applications.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE.

The farmers of this district have found a good way in which to assist the Canadian patriotic fund. They will bring produce to the local merchants between the 10th and 15th of the month. The merchant will give a receipt according to market value, and will pay the cash into the treasurer's fund in the regular way, and the amount will be credited to the subscriber.

The Guide refers in an editorial to Hunt Housas as a noxious weed. Quite right.

GRASSY LAKE.

A most successful and enjoyable patriotic concert was held at Grassy Lake, at the residence of Mr. C. H. Crocker, on Wednesday evening, October 28th. Besides a good turnout of the people of the neighborhood, others were present from Red Deer, Willowdale, Edwell, and Pine Lake. The proceeds amounted to thirty-seven dollars.

North Red Deer Council

The regular meeting of the Council of the Village of North Red Deer was held in the village office at 8 o'clock on Monday evening last. All the councillors were present, Reeve Kent in the chair.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, the matters arising out of the minutes were taken up, the most important of which was the report of the Reeve that the appeal of Messrs. Bawlinheimer & Greene before His Honor, Judge Lees in Chambers had not been granted, and the corrected assessment of all of Block 23 North Red Deer was confirmed.

A petition was received by Council and signed by the following persons, requesting that By-law No. 6 concerning animals running at large be submitted to the residents of the village before being finally passed: Paul Lamont, Paul Cheuvin, Raymond Moutreux, Hewson & Sons, Sam McIlraith, George Mahen, H. George, Joo. A. Ramare, J. D. Stewart, C. Rindal, W. L. Harvey, B. P. Allford. Although the petition was not mailed or received within the required time and did not contain sufficient number of eligible electors, the council unanimously decided to submit the said By-law to the residents electors and the petition for taking the vote has been placed in the hands of Mr. James Dalegleish.

It has cost the Village $105 to publish this By-law as required by the Village Act. The residents of the village have been caused all kinds of annoyance during the past summer by reason of the trespassing of cattle, horses and poultry. Neighbors have quarrelled while others have suffered with patience. And all the while, the only remedy open to the afflicted was to go to law. The members of the Council, at the least, to them, the Reeve and Councillor Smith, have been hearing complaints all summer about the damage to gardens and lawns, Councillor Henry is opposed to the By-law in its present form and wishes cattle and horses to be allowed to run at large during certain hours of the day.

The matter is now before the residents electors and it is up to them to prove whether North Red Deer village wishes to be a place fit to live in, a place where the children of a settlement of homes having nice gardens and lawns, and for the present at any rate, a respectable looking suburb to our neighboring city, or simply a cluster of homes devoid of any taste for cleanliness, neatness and beauty situated on the outskirts of what is recognized and admitted to be one of the best, if not the best residential city in the Province. And note, Red Deer city has its By-law for restraining and regulating the running at large and trespassing of animals. Without such a By-law Red Deer would be a vastly different looking place. And the citizens of North Red Deer must prove now whether or not they wish to have any pride in their own municipality.

A resident elector is any person, male or female, residing in the village or within two miles of the limits of the full age of twenty-one, whose name appears on the last revised assessment roll of the village and who has paid all taxes due by him or her to the village up to the 31st day of December last preceding this vote. A letter was received from Win. Moultrie drawing attention of council to certain uncovered hay-stacks in the village and recommending that some action be taken to guard against fire from ashes. Council considered the matter and a committee was appointed to investigate conditions and report.

The following accounts were read and ordered paid: Red Deer Advocate $105.25; A. McCreight $12; J. Bradley $2.70; W. F. Harris $1.80; R. Marner $30; Jas. Dalegleish $5; John Green $1; Red Deer Memorial Hospital $2.00.

By-law No. 7 to establish and regulate a scavenging system for the village was given first second and third readings and was finally passed. Council closed at 11 p.m.
